

For our learning centers in Mongolia, we are looking for a volunteer as

BOOKBRIDGE FELLOW (M/F)

WHO ARE WE?

BOOKBRIDGE is a social enterprise that sets up learning centers as social businesses in rural areas of Mongolia. The learning centers bring quality education to people in need and serve as real life case studies in our “Capability Program” for international executives to learn project planning, working with multiple stakeholders and leading diverse teams in different cultural contexts. Since 2009, we have set up 11 learning centers in provinces across the country.

WHAT IS YOUR ROLE? As a BOOKBRIDGE Fellow, you are responsible for supporting and developing the day-to-day operations of one of our learning centers in Mongolia. In this role, you can expect to be:

- supporting our Head of Learning Center in managing the library
- supporting our Head of Learning Center in organizing events and offering creative, educational free activities for students
- supporting our Head of Learning Center in defining the strategy for the learning center
- co-teaching English courses for young adults in the community
- promoting the learning center's offerings within the community

WHO ARE YOU? Ideally, you...

- have experience in working with children and young adults
- have already worked with people from different cultures
- have a very good command of the English language
- have experience in teaching
- are highly flexible and able to work independently
- are able to commit yourself for 6 months and more
- are at least 21 years old

WHAT DO WE OFFER YOU?

As a BOOKBRIDGE Fellow, you get to experience and shape the impact of one of our learning centers. The Fellowship allows you to enhance your skills in a totally different environment and develop personally.

The best way to truly experience Mongolia is through volunteering.

We properly prepare you for your mission and support you with a free visa accommodation in the local community as well as free travel to and from the workplace, from Ulaanbaatar to where the Learning Center is located.

We look forward to receiving your application. Please include a motivational letter and your CV. Send your application to Program Manager Altantungalag: tungalag@bookbridge.org
